PSYCHOLOGICAL STRATEGY BOARD

TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR AD HOC PANEL "A"

1. The Problem: To prepare propaganda and psychological strategy plans of global application in the following order of contingencies:
Plan A: Present armistice negotiations in Korea are broken off.
Plan B: Present armistice negotiations continue over a protracted period.
Plan C: Present armistice negotiations attain any degree of success.
2. Objectives:

PLAN A

- a. To ensure that the policies, attitudes and actions of the United Nations (as they reflect those of the United States) with respect to the initiation and conduct of the negotiations are put forcefully before the world.
- b. Concurrently, to vigorously and persuasively undercut the anticipated Communist propaganda and agitation with respect to the issue.
- c. To prevent relaxation in the attitudes, actions and capabilities of the free world, insofar as these are affected by the course of the negotiations.

PLAN B

- a. To further the early and favorable completion of the negotiations by the application of the total psychological operations means available to the United States.
- b. To ensure that the policies and actions of the United Nations (as they reflect those of the United States) with respect to the initiation and conduct of the negotiations are put forcefully before the world.

- d. To prevent relaxation in the attitudes, actions and capabilities of the free world, insofar as these are affected by the course of the negotiations.

PLAN C

- a. To ensure that the policies, attitudes and actions of the United Nations (as they reflect those of the United States) with respect to the initiation and conduct of the negotiations is put forcefully before the world.
  - b. Concurrently, to vigorously and persuasively undercut the anticipated Communist propaganda and agitation with respect to the issue.
  - c. To prevent relaxation in the attitudes, actions and capabilities of the free world, insofar as these are affected by the course of the negotiations.
  - d. To ensure that the United Nations and the United States are credited before the world with responsibility for the successes, and the Soviet Communist regime is charged with responsibility for the failures.
3. These plans should be clearly focussed upon the problem and objectives stated above. Psychological strategy plans of a wider scope are concurrently under survey.
